

Longford is...

Looking in a different way

The boys from St Michael's went out to explore the streets around the school. On the way, they chose to take photos of anything that seemed interesting or unusual.

Here are some of the details that they noticed. Can you recognise all of these "Longford details? You probably pass them every day?

How many did you get?